TOM'S TAINTED TEAM: ANALYSIS OF HOUSE MEMBERS WHO SIDE WITH TOM DELAY AND MTBE SPECIAL INTERESTS OVER THEIR CONSTITUENTS

This week, the House of Representatives will again consider the deeply flawed, and largely the same pro-polluter Energy bill (H.R. 6) that it has voted on twice in the last two years. Among the most harmful and controversial parts of the legislation is a special interest provision to protect makers and refiners of the dangerous chemical MTBE from pollution liability. MTBE, a potential carcinogen, has contaminated groundwater systems in at least 29 states, threatening the drinking water of millions of Americans. The MTBE polluter bailout provision will force states and local taxpayers to pay billions to clean up the MTBE contamination.

MTBE polluters have no better friend in Congress than the ethically challenged Majority Leader Tom DeLay. As one Republican congressional staff member recently said, "It's not an energy bill anymore. It's an MTBE-Tom DeLay bill." And the 'MTBE-Tom DeLay bill' has no better friend than the 10 House Republicans who are part of DeLay's 'Tainted Team.' During the past two years, all of these members of Congress have:

- Voted twice for the House Energy bill that includes the MTBE polluter bailout provision;
- Taken campaign cash from the oil and gas industry which has lobbied hard for the Energy bill's passage (including in many cases contributions from either Valero Energy, a big manufacturer of MTBE which is based in Texas, and/or Lyondell Chemical, one of the largest manufacturers, based in DeLay's district);
- Received at least $10,000 in contributions from Mr. DeLay's PAC, Americans for a Republican Majority (partially funded by MTBE interests), if not more from his personal campaign account;
- And have MTBE contamination in their districts and in some cases, pending lawsuits against oil, gas and MTBE producers filed in their states that would be nullified if the MTBE provision were enacted into law.

"It's not an energy bill anymore. It's an MTBE-Tom DeLay bill."

- Republican Staffer, Houston Chronicle, 4/13/05

*These 10 members also turned a blind eye to Congressman DeLay's ethics issues by voting earlier this year to change House Ethics Rules to help shield DeLay from investigations. Even as more of DeLay's scandalous and potentially illegal actions have come to light, six of these 10 members have contributed thousands of dollars to his legal defense fund. Instead of representing the interests of their constituents and demanding accountability for their party's leaders, these members continue to cozy up to Mr. DeLay and MTBE Special Interests. We urge that these members be held accountable for their actions and their blatant disregard for the citizens they are supposed to represent.

On the next page is a chart outlining how the 10 members meet these different criteria to become members of Tom's 'Tainted Team.' On the pages to follow the chart are individual fact sheets on each member's links to Tom DeLay, Big Energy and MTBE interests.
