1. Which one of the following statements comes closest to describing your thinking about the 2020 Democratic candidates for president?

I already know which candidate I would support if he or she runs.....	9	[157]
There are three or four candidates I already am seriously considering .....	14
I have not really narrowed down my choices yet and I am open to learning about and considering many different candidates .....	77

2a. I'm going to mention some issues that some people might consider when thinking about who they will support in the Democratic presidential [primary/caucus]. Please tell me how important it is to you personally that the Democratic candidate for president have a clear plan on each issue—essential, very important, somewhat important, not that important, or not important at all.

(FOR EACH ITEM, ASK:) How important to you is it that the Democratic candidate has a clear plan for (READ ITEM)? (REPEAT SCALE AS NECESSARY:) Is it essential, very important, somewhat important, not that important, or not important at all?

THIS TABLE HAS BEEN RANKED BY THE PERCENTAGE WHO SAY ESSENTIAL OR VERY IMPORTANT

Q.3a AND Q.3b ARE ROTATED

3a. (Now) Suppose a candidate running in your state's Democratic presidential [primary/caucus] had a plan to take immediate action on climate change and promote clean energy jobs by moving the United States to one-hundred-percent clean energy sources, like solar and wind power, by the year 2050.

If a candidate has a plan to move the United States to one-hundred-percent clean energy by the year 2050, would you be much more likely to support that candidate, somewhat more likely to support that candidate, somewhat less likely to support that candidate, much less likely to support that candidate, or would it not make a difference for you either way?

Much more likely.....	46	[177]
Somewhat more likely .....	37
Somewhat less likely .....	2
Much less likely .....	1
No difference either way .....	13
Not sure.....	1
<hr style="border-top: 1px dashed black;"/>
Total More Likely	83
Total Less Likely	3

3b. (Now) Suppose a candidate running in your state's Democratic presidential [primary/caucus] supports the Green New Deal to make major investments in infrastructure, technology, jobs and training in order to drastically and immediately move the United States away from the use of fossil fuels to one-hundred-percent renewables within ten years to address the threat of climate change.

If a candidate supports the Green New Deal, would you be much more likely to support that candidate, somewhat more likely to support that candidate, somewhat less likely to support that candidate, much less likely to support that candidate, or would it not make a difference for you either way?

Much more likely.....	46	[178]
Somewhat more likely .....	37
Somewhat less likely .....	2
Much less likely .....	1
No difference either way .....	12
Not sure.....	2
<hr style="border-top: 1px dashed black;"/>
Total More Likely	83
Total Less Likely	3

Now I'm going to give you a little more information about these policies.

Q.4 AND Q.5 ARE ROTATED BY FORM

4a. The plan to move the United States to one-hundred-percent clean energy by 2050 would require swift action across the government to move the country away from fossil fuel energy and transition to cleaner forms of energy like wind and solar. It would improve public health and reduce environmental pollution, especially for low-income communities and communities of color that are most vulnerable to the impacts of climate change. The plan would set a clear interim goal for the year 2035 to make sure the United States is staying on track to create a clean energy economy that provides good jobs and world-leading technology.

Now that you have a little more information about the plan to move the United States to one-hundred-percent clean energy by 2050, is your reaction to this plan very favorable, fairly favorable, just somewhat favorable, or not that favorable?

Very favorable .....	62	[179]
Fairly favorable .....	20
Just somewhat favorable .....	12
Not that favorable .....	4
Not sure .....	2
Total Favorable	82

4b. What are some of the main reasons you are [RESPONSE FROM Q.4a] about the plan to move the United States to one-hundred-percent clean energy by the year 2050? What specifically do you like or not like about this plan?

(PROBE FOR MULTIPLE RESPONSES:) Are there any other reasons you are [RESPONSE FROM Q.4a] about the plan to move the United States to one-hundred-percent clean energy by 2050? [208-218] *

Net Favorable Impressions	73%	Net Unfavorable Impressions	15%
Important, needed, necessary, we have no choice, needs to be done	16	Will take too long, dislike the amount of time it will take	3
Clean up the air, better for the environment	16	Not realistic, won't be completed in that time frame	3
For our children, their future, for future generations	11	There are other priorities, other things more important	3
Need to preserve the planet, take care of the earth, save the planet	10	Will be too costly, too expensive	2
Climate change is real, we cannot be in denial about climate change	8	It is not going to happen, they never follow through	1
Need to depend less on oil, oil companies, get away from fossil fuels	6	Other countries need to participate too, we cannot do it alone	1
For health reasons/health of the people, healthier for us	6	Dislike solar panels, don't want solar panels on my house	1

5a. The Green New Deal is a mass mobilization to address income inequality and poverty by dramatically expanding existing renewable power sources and deploying new production capacity with the goal of meeting one hundred percent of national power demand in the United States through renewable sources within ten years. It will also provide all members of society, across all regions and all communities, the opportunity, training, and education to be a full and equal participant in the transition. It will include a job guarantee program to ensure a living wage job to every person that wants one as well as ensure a quote, "just transition, unquote, for all workers, low-income communities, communities of color, indigenous communities, rural and urban communities, and the front-line communities most affected by climate change and environmental harm. And it will ensure that local implementation of the transition is led from the community level.

Now that you have a little more information about the Green New Deal, is your reaction to this plan very favorable, fairly favorable, just somewhat favorable, or not that favorable?
